

NSF-CMi recognised for its excellence in training for the food and drink industry

NSF-CMi has been welcomed into the 'Network of Excellence' of the respected National Skills Academy for Food and Drink Manufacturing. This means that its highly valued training services are now more widely available to companies nationwide, as they are searchable through the Academy's free online training directory.

NSF-CMi has joined the Academy as one of its accredited training providers who specialise in training for the food and drink industry sectors. All the training providers have undergone rigorous checks to become quality assured by the Academy, who only accept the best. The National Skills Academy for Food and Drink Manufacturing provides the food and drink industry with the training it needs to develop the skills of employees to drive the productivity and competitiveness of the sector.

Dan Fone, Training Director at NSF-CMi said, "We are delighted to have this endorsement from the National Skills Academy of the quality and effectiveness of our training courses. We have always aimed to provide training that focuses on industry needs and also meets specific client requirements and so we are pleased to be able to support the Academy in its continuing research and skills development."

NSF-CMi provides training in the areas of Food Safety, HACCP and Internal Auditing skills as well as a range of compliance areas bespoke to individual clients.

There is no charge to use the Academy service which matches courses to your exact requirements.

If you would like to discuss any of the services which NSF-CMi currently offer then please contact Jon Adams on +44 (0)7801 039026.
